ALICE B. CHITTENDEN
1859-1944

Mrs. Chittenden was born October 14, 1859 in Brockport, New York (according to "Who's Who in American Art," Fielding lists Brockport, Maine as her birthplace). After coming West she studied at the California School of Design, and was a pupil of Virgil Williams at the California School of Fine Arts.

She was awarded a gold medal for flower painting by the San Francisco Exposition of Art and Industries, 1891. Silver medals were awarded by the Lewis and Clark Exposition in Portland, 1905; Société des Artistes Français, 1908; Alaska-Yukon Exposition, Seattle, 1919.

As Alice Chittenden was widely recognized as an accomplished portraitist, she was commissioned to paint seven portraits for the California Society of Pioneers. Her portrait of the Right Reverend William Ford Nicholls, Bishop of California was placed in the Episcopal Divinity School, San Francisco. The portraits of Judge and Mrs. Boalt were painted by Mrs. Chittenden for Boalt Law Hall, University of California.

She was a member of: San Francisco A.A.; San Francisco Society of Women Artists, American Federation of Artists. She was also a member of the Faculty of the California School of Fine Arts, San Francisco.

Through her friendship and association with Alice Eastwood, Curator of Botany, California Academy of Sciences, San Francisco, she endeavored to paint the wildflowers of the west. This exhibit is only a portion of the paintings which she produced from before the turn of the century to about 1915.

As the nature of these paintings demand that the flowers be painted fresh, almost 'in situ', the artist travelled the west extensively, tramping the foothills, mountains, valleys and deserts in search of models for her paintings. There are paintings in this exhibit which were painted on the shore of the Salton Sea, in the Yosemite Valley and up above the mansions of Hillsborough.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hay Bechtel became the owner of this collection several years ago. She has donated the paintings of native trees from the collection to the Arboretum, San Francisco. A selection of wildflower paintings has also been given to the California Academy of Sciences, San Francisco; another to the California Historical Society and a group to the Monterey History and Art Association. Through her generosity the people of California can share in the enjoyment of the talent of this distinguished artist.
